Bobby,

as one red head to another I think you're swell - red hair looks pretty on little boys. I'll never forget what a sweet boy I believe you is.
Lots of luck to ya!

HARDING HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

To serve as a guide for your wanderings through the lanes of memories of your high school days is the aspiring hope of this 1943 ACORN. May its pages recall to your mind the times of joy and the times of sadness, the hours of work and the hours of play spent in your years at Harding.

We feel that this issue of the ACORN will carry a special meaning, providing a link between you and your school friends in the days to follow when many will travel to the ends of the earth in the great fight for decency, freedom, and peace in the world.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and heartfelt thanks and appreciation, for their advice, assistance, and kindly patience, to James R. Hawkins, who fostered the publication of this book, to W. A. Cauthen, Mrs. M. F. Dunbar, and the entire staff of the Studio, and to W. J. Crichton, Jr., and the staff of the Observer Printing House. All these helped to render the change over of the 1943 ACORN from a dream to a reality.

Theme for Today

Oh, speed on, Oh, good friends of mine,
With hearts that are very strong;
For into the battle of life we are going,
Accepting the challenge to right the wrong.

But some day, some other time not long,
When, to their knees, our foes we have brought,
Good friends, we'll be back together,
Enjoying peace and happiness so long sought.

—JOHN RAE HIPP,
Class Poet.

Our Six Year Story—Remember?

To put into words the happiness the class of '43 has obtained through the six years just past would be absolutely impossible. But to give you the skeleton of the happiest years of our life would take one back to a day in September, 1937—the day we enrolled in the seventh grade. There were 232 of us and for the first few weeks we roamed around the halls like lost souls. But with changing of classes and the novelty of lockers, we soon found that the days flew by. After finally getting down to normal, we elected class officers to guide us through the year. They were: president, Paul Yount; vice-president, Walter Watt; secretary, Mary Mallet; and treasurer, Joe Cutrell.

Soon after the second semester, the size of our school was doubled with the addition of the new gym, laboratories, cafeteria, music, and commercial departments.

The arrival of a new school year was greatly anticipated and we trudged back to the old schoolhouse to get educated. This time we were more confident and it didn't take us long to get settled and elect as officers, president, Walter Watt; vice-president, Joe Cutrell; secretary, Ben Spivey; and treasurer, Donald Gardner. The chief topic of conversation that year was our new athletic field. It was completed in time to have some swell ball games, not mentioning the May Day festivities.

The ninth grade was welcomed with all enthusiasm that seniors in junior high school can display. The officers were: president, Donald Gardner; vice-president, Betty Shackleton; secretary, Peggy Clanton; and treasurer, Helen Conder. During that year Miss Alice Batten organized a Junior Honor Society containing seventeen members, all from our class.

Our destination was beginning to be clear when we arrived at the threshold of senior high school—the tenth grade. During that year, we elected as our leaders, president, Bob Weddington; vice-president, Frances Sawyer; secretary, Annie Sue Moody; and treasurer, Ben Spivey. We worked harder than ever that year because our star was close and there seemed so much yet for us to do.

Our junior year was filled with fun and we felt as if we were sitting on top of the world. To begin with, we elected as officers, president, Conley Robinson; vice-president, Donald Gardner; secretary, Ed Honeycutt; and treasurer, Lenora Baxley. Then Junior Marshals were selected including, chief, Paul Yount; assistant chief, Nancy Bearden; Lenora Baxley, Gene Coble, Mary Lee Durham, Doris Jean Neal, Angelia Neely, Dorothy Richardson, Conley Robinson, Joyce Rogers, Joyce Stanley, Nell Strawn, and Bob Weddington.

The eleventh grade was climaxed with the Junior-Senior Banquet held in Efrd's dining room. It was a tremendous success, after much planning on the part of our adviser, Miss Mildred Mashburn, and the various committees. The theme of the event was South America, with programs in the shape of Senors and Senioritas. Bob Weddington, master of ceremonies, served as toastmaster, and other formalities were performed by various students. The highlight of the occasion, besides the delicious food, was Mr. Tewksbury, who gave us an interesting account of his travels in South America. After the banquet, a play was presented by the sophomores, "Sunday Costs Ten Pesos," followed by a dance in the gaily decorated gym.

With the arrival of our senior year came a whirlwind of activity. Officers chosen for the first semester were: president, Donald Gardner; vice-president, Angelia Neely; secretary, Gene Coble; treasurer, Joyce Rogers; while serving as second semester officers were: president, Ed Honeycutt; vice-president, Loreta Cox, secretary, Nell Strawn; and treasurer, Colleen Hendrix.

All duties which must be carried out by seniors were performed by us with a feeling of pride. They included ordering rings, invitations, and caps and gowns, electing superlatives, and the most important of all—the Senior Class play, "His Name Was Aunt Nellie."

We were many sorrowful souls who attended the Baccalaureate Sermon, Class Day, and Commencement. But this just shows the truth of the old saying, "All good things must come to an end." This phrase certainly reflects on the many happy days we spent at dear ole' Harding High.

—JOYCE ELAINE STANLEY, Class Historian.

Last Will and Testament

ARTICLE I. TO MR. HAWKINS

1. First of all to you we leave our heartfelt thanks for all you have done for us throughout our sojourn at Harding.
2. We also leave to you an assurance that now that we've gone, you will no longer be bothered by students coming to school late, matching, cutting classes, or getting into any other devilment of that sort.

ARTICLE II. TO THE RISING SENIORS

1. To you we leave a plea that you will do all in your power to uphold the honor and prestige of our Alma Mater during your senior year, and that you will also strive to make Harding's stock continue to rise.

ARTICLE III. TO OUR TEACHERS

1. To Mrs. Roach we leave our appreciation for lighting the path to our final graduation through your fine job as class adviser.
2. To Coach Baker we leave congratulations on producing the Charlotte high school basketball champions, and the hope that he and his successive clubs will repeat.
3. To Mr. Cook we leave our sincere thanks for a successful year of music.
4. To Miss Batten we will the third consecutive year as adviser for the Hustler, and our appreciation for the fine work she has done.
5. To Miss Fore we leave the rising Junior Class, may they appreciate Carl Sandberg's poetry and haircut more than did we.
6. To Mrs. Sawyer we leave our appreciation for the help and advice she has given us. May she find her a staff of deaf mutes for office helpers next year.

ARTICLE IV. TO VARIOUS STUDENTS

1. James Edmonds, III, wills to Frank Dixon his ability to get along with his senior teachers.
2. To Dot Foard, Anna Lou Hughes, wills her ability to get a boy friend and hold him for five long years.
3. Melva Gardner leaves her ability to attend school every day in high school, with the exception of one day, to some red-blooded, strong-willed student who wants to try for the same record.
4. Because he no longer has a use for it, Haywood Gray leaves behind his bashfulness, but there seems to be no one in the junior class to receive it, so let it rest in peace in some nook or cranny.
5. Kathleen Crow leaves the presidency of the Honor Society to Evelyn Carroll.
6. To next year's fullback, Gene Henderson, Grafton Graham wills his title of "Choo-Choo," in the hope that he will chug along against every squad Harding meets.
7. Doris Rowland and Jackie Jones leave their cordial partnership to Hedy Freeman and Jean Craig.
8. Nell Strawn leaves her aquamarine eyes and silly giggle to any junior who wants them, she doesn't.
9. Loreta Cox leaves her last pack of chewing gum (the A & P is fresh out) to Jerry Mundy.
10. Dot Richardson gives to any one who doesn't know better the ability to spend a third of her life waiting on Joyce Rogers, a third on the bus, and a third—just waiting.
11. To the members of the coming D. E. Class, Celeste McGinnis, Mary Lib Hoke, Sara Currie, Dot McCracken, Margaret Howell, and Jo Edna Lovelace leave their title of p.c's.
12. Dot Hummell gives the Dance Committee, with due warning, to the next chairman in the hope that he can persuade the boys to tread the old gym floor with a girl in his arms.
13. Juanita Shuford wills her good disposition to Marionette Shuford.
14. To Jane McGinnis, Betty Adams leaves her quiet way and love of volleyball.
15. Gerald Bridges wills his tenor voice to Frank Dixon and his hair to Ted Witherspoon, if he promises to let it grow.
16. To Bill Morse, J. D. Karnazes leaves his French and geometry knowledge.
17. Lenora Baxley wills to Carey Leonard her slender figure and to Cora Ann Parks her bass fiddle.
18. To Ruth Shockley, Betty Ruth Worley leaves her hair rollers, that she may have curls all the time.
19. Frankie Abbott, Edna Phipps, and Emily Champion leave their positions in the cafeteria to Lorena Von Becknell and Peggy Sprouse.
20. To Lucretia Keistler, "Sloppy" Fletcher leaves her title with the wish that she live up to its ideals.
21. Mildred Boyd leaves her blond hair to Joyce Huffstetler.
22. Betty Ann Walters leaves her freckles to Faye Kennedy and her long fingernails to Geraldine Frazier.

23. To Frank Dixon, Conley Robinson leaves the leadership of their exclusive club for the boys of Harding, and promises to give him any advice concerning its running.
24. Bill Brookey leaves the stop watch to someone brave enough to hold it for a whole game.
25. Emily Champion wills her ability to be late to Mahota Rogers.
26. To all who need it, Margaret Cook leaves her good humor.
27. To Tootsie Wherry, Joyce Rogers wills her ability to spend eight periods out of nine in the office, if she will love Mrs. Sawyer as Joyce does.
28. Mary Thomas leaves her secret technique on gum-popping to "Red" Edwards.
29. Betty Jean "Best Looking" and "Biggest Heartbreaker" Mulligan leaves her titles to Mary Madanis and Virginia Grose, content that they will ably fill them.
30. To Betty Wilkinson, Helen Miller leaves a bottle of peroxide to use as an antiseptic on her hair.
31. Annie Sue Moody wills to Reece Overcash her heart.
32. To Janet McKene, Frances Dunn leaves her shorthand book.
33. Shirley Tallent leaves her oversized mouth to Pat Overcash, knowing she will take full advantage of it as did Shirley.
34. Gene Coble wills her concert meisters chair to someone with an attitude acceptable to Director Cook.
35. To Mary Arden Liles and Joyce Huffstetler, Betty Shackleton and Helen Withers leave their ability to sneak in the back door after the tardy bell.
36. To Cora Ann Parks, Joyce Stanley leaves the job as class historian.
37. Colleen Hendrix wills to Lorena Von Becknell her alto voice.
38. To Bill Robinson, Alfred Langston planned to will his big feet, but after some thought he decided to save them for his own personal use. They might do for walking on the water.
39. Bill Walters wills to Ellis Zedaker his ability to get along with Miss Watson, and also to get by with homework.
40. To Willie Wingate, Ed Barkley and Pee Wee Gardner leave their ability to play three sports a year and get letters for their trouble.
41. Paul Monty leaves his physique to Li'l Henry Klutts.
42. Bill Needham wills the honor of driving a jalopy around Harding to Eddie Rich.
43. To Teeny Farr, Lizzie Nisbet leaves her senior dignity, as does Ed Honeycutt to Blackie Hager.
44. Alan McNeil leaves his way with the women to Julian Holbrook.
45. John Rae Hipp leaves to LeBon Jenkins the office of senior class poet.
46. To Adrienne Hartmann, Danay Agner leaves her college algebra prowess.
47. Preston O'Quinn leaves Conder's and their milk-shakes to all the kids who want them next fall.
48. Mary Lee Durham bequeaths her secret formula for breaking up steady two-somes to Jo Ann Terrell.
49. To anyone on the brink of matrimony, Rachel Worley leaves the experience she has acquired in the last several months. (Call.....)
50. Rose Marie Anderson leaves the care of the library to Gloria Garr.
51. Nancy Bearden leaves her vamping powers to Carey Leonard, also her general altitude.
52. To Lib Purser, Lou Johnston leaves her baby talk and giggling ways.
53. Frank Yandell hereby gives the Music Department back to Maestro Cook.
54. To Kathleen Porter, Frances Sawyer wills the task of being high scorer for the Ramettes.
55. Margaret Nelson leaves the stamps sales.
56. To artist Eddie Rich, artist Baxter Campbell leaves his artistic talents.
57. To Cora Ann Parks, Doris Jean Neal leaves the post as choir pianist.
58. Bobbie Primm leaves her ability to hold friends to Harriet Kleckley.
59. Paul Yount and Bob Weddington leave Mrs. Roach to one of next year's eighth grade classes, hoping they will allow her to read the home room bulletin without ringing the bell.
60. To David Hipp, John Hugh Taylor leaves his fiddle spot in the orchestra.
61. Richard Rankin leaves his big feet and name of "Footsie" to somebody that wants a change.
62. John Henry Bechtler wills his boxing talents to Reece Overcash so that Reece will be city champion.
63. Jill Neely leaves her repertoire of classic jokes to Georgie Ann Aldred.

Signed, sealed, and delivered this eighth day of June,
PAUL YOUNT, Class Lawyer.

Prophecy

June 3, 1953.

DEAR DIARY

This has been one swell day, I have just returned from the banquet that ended our class's first reunion after 10 years. (Not a bad idea, eh?) Every one of the 94 seniors of '43 were present at the Hotel John Taylor for the banquet.

I guess Macy's 5 & 10 in New York had to close for a week because the officials were here—credit manager, Celeste McGinnis, personnel manager, Dot McCrackin, and advertising manager, Jo Edna Lovelace.

Others from the Big Town were Melva Gardner, Betty Jean Mulligan, Myrt Thomas, and Mary Lee Durham, all Powers girls (wow!). Speaking of "wows", Ed Barkley's troupe from the Palace (in Newark I guess) were at the Broadway this Friday. His troupe consisted of his orchestra; his managers Bill Walters, and Grafton Graham; dancers Jackie Jones, The Shackleton Withers team; and vocalist Doris Rowland.

Some events of the reunion were: The opening of a bridge across Irwin Creek leading to our old Alma Mater's campus. Mayor of Charlotte, Frank Yandell, pushed a button to open the bridge to the public. One look at this great bridge suggests its designer Bill Brooky, originator of "Brooky Bridges." His chief engineers on the super structure were Moe Dellinger, Paul Monty, and Paul Godfrey.

We had lunch at the old S & W, now called J & D since J. D. Karnages took over. I sat next to Home Run King Donald Gardner of the Cardinals, who has had his picture in the papers almost as much as his cousin Conley Robinson, the new Hollywood romance. Another Harding Hollywooder is Gerald Bridges, Joyce Stanley and Dot Miller have a beauty shop on Hollywood Boulevard; and Nell Strawn, I hear, is a stand-in for Judy Canova.

I saw Ed Honeycutt, and Lou Johnston and Shirley Tallent were right behind him, so I guess they are still billing and cooing over him.

Saw Nancy Bearden (still "Shorty") and she is laboratory technician at Queens. Anna Lou Hughes (Floggie) and Joyce Rogers have quite a doctor's practice here in town. Alfred Langston is on the staff at Memorial Hospital. Mary Elizabeth Nisbet ("Lizzie") is a very good dentist. Emily Champion, Gene Coble, Juanita Shuford, and Elizabeth Burn are all nurses. (We really had a smart senior class.)

Guess who is teaching at Harding High School? None other than Josephine Hipp, algebra; Doris Jean Neal, music; Frances (Goon) Sawyer, physical education; Dolly Mae Fletcher, art (they finally got an art class at Harding); Rose Marie Anderson is librarian; and John Rae Hipp, chemistry.

Back to the events of the reunion. The banquet was at 7:30. Sitting at the head of the table were flyer Alan McNeil, guest of honor the Admiral (Guess who) and his wife Dot Hummell; U. S. Government interpreter from Brazil, Kathleen Crow; Helen Miller, owner of a ranch in Colorado; and Angelia Neely who was the author of the best seller this month (I think she tried to out-do Tobacco Road so she called it Snuff Alley); Millionaires Bill Needham and Dennis McGrath made their money in the stock market (they always were lucky).

The housewives of our senior class occupied another table. Among the wealthiest were Marguerite Phillips, Mary Lib Hoke, Frankie Abbott, Frances Dunn, Danay Agner, Rachel Worley, Loreta Cox, Betty Gopfert, and Edna Phipps.

A regiment of WAACS was present. Among these were Annie Sue Moody, Phyllis Mullins, Mildred Boyd, Bobbie Primm, Ruth Keith, Margaret Howell, and Sara Currie.

WBT was well represented also with John Bechtler, news reporter; Haywood Gray, president of the station; and Margaret Cook and Margaret Nelson who have a cooking school on the air.

For Dot Richardson, Betty Adams, Colleen Hendrix, and Lenora Baxley, who are looking for bosses with a soft knee (and a softer pocketbook) I suggest the following: Lloyd Henley, a prominent lawyer specializing in divorce cases (wonder why); Richard Rankin, President of B. & H. Photo Company, speaker for the Merchants of Charlotte's table, and other merchants and professionals: James Edmonds, III, who has an exclusive men's store; Carl Cutrell and competitor, Preston O'Quinn, who has just opened his Super Market; Joe Cutrell, who is president of the Cutrell Taxi Service (he learned that at Harding); and printer, Baxter Campbell.

Setting the women's styles in hats and dresses this spring are designers Betty Ann Walters, Ruby Walden, Helen Taylor, Betty Ruth Worley, and Merle Goodman.

Paul Yount is known as "Scoop Yount" at the Observer; and me, I'm just a photographer for Life Magazine.

For six of the eight years of the school's history the students through the student council, the executive body, and the student assembly, the legislative body, have participated in the government of the school. These two groups in coöperation with the principal, the teachers, and the students have concentrated their effort on offering the students a maximum of opportunity in extra-curricular work, on helping administer school plans, and on establishing the school in a high position among the schools of the state.

The Editor's Ever Favorite

Dear Bob,
 Well I guess this is it, the conclusion of twelve wonderful years. I guess you've always meant a lot to me all through six of those twelve years first as the object of my affection in the seventh grade up to a true friend in the twelfth. I can't remember when I've ever met

Here's Your All Electric Home Of The Future . . .

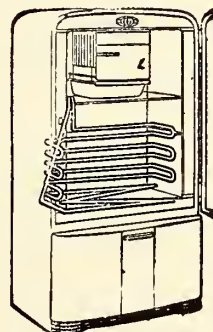

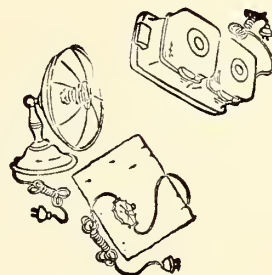

Buy war bonds and stamps every week
—buy them out of income.

This money, mobilized now for war will be available for peace.

Every bond and stamp will be an installment on the things you'll want to buy and enjoy when Victory comes.

For example—electric servants to bring you comfort and leisure — an electric range, refrigerator, radio — perhaps a complete all-electric kitchen.

So save NOW for America's future—save NOW for your own future — BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS.

I saw Bob!
 He is wishing you the very best of everything in life. Give a very sweet & nice boy and I'd always think the world of you.
 Love,
 M.

Bob, I'll bet we've walked miles together (after school). I'll always remember the afternoons we spent in drugstores.

Love,

All Wonderful,
 But what I think I give: I thank for being around when give that "material" from. Remember the will look rich (don't forget me either) I think you are the richest, smallest, sweetest boy I know. Good boy
 "It's fine!" and all be happy forever -
 Love - Mrs. W.

Bob,
I'll remember you and the afternoons we walked home and everyone told a new joke. May-everyone treat a grand as you deserve. Don't forget me when you become a member of a big orchestra.
Always
"Bill"

Dear Bob,

You are one of the cutest, nicest boys I know.
I hope you have the best of everything because you certainly deserve it.
I'll always remember you.

Lenora

Lots of love to a swell boy Paul and his Raul and Best wishes to a fine fellow

Ed Barnes

Hi Son,

Well you and I will soon be leaving in some part of the summer. I want you to know that I will always remember you as a fine boy and a real friend.
Luck and success
Alfred

Bob,

You've been my friend for as long as I've been in Charlotte.
I certainly hope we will get to stay in the Navy together. Let's not let anything come between our lovely, wholesome friendship.

Paul

Softness and Sweet wishes,
Achiennne

Bahhe!

you're just the "cream of the crop" you're sweet & cute. I like you lots!

Love

Bob, it's been nice going to school we'll miss you next year. I wish you the best of everything in the future.

Such a one you boy. It has been fun these 11 years.
Margaret

Bob, I hope you are happy and successful in all your endeavors.
I will miss you but I know you will be a great success.
Love,
Lillian

Bobby, you really are a sweet boy & I hope you have lots of luck!!!
Jean Craig

Best of luck to a swell boy, you deserve it. Remember our good times at dear old Haiding - Lena

Dear "Bobbie,"

If people had told me "ump-teen" years ago that we would some day graduate I wouldn't have believed them. But!! We are. Imagine that!!! We really have known each other a long time huh??
I never forget when we used to be "little" (I was once you know) Ha! Ha!
Bob its been swell knowing you.
I'll never forget you as long as I live, nor the good times we've had. How bout' the year we boaked into that "oil" more fun!!
They got the food though didn't they!! Wishing all the success & happiness in the world to a wonderful boy.
Love,
Travels
